JEN'S BABY TRIBUTE TO MOM

In a loving tribute, expectant mom Jennifer Love Hewitt plans to name her baby after her late mother Patricia. "Jennifer's mom died in June of last year, and the loss is the only thing casting a shadow over her baby joy," revealed an insider, adding that the 34-year-old former "Party of Five" star will likely name the child Patricia or Patrick. It's her way of honoring her mom, a speech pathologist who lost her brave

SCHEMING PORTIA PLOTS COMEBACK

Portia de Rossi is turning on the charm on the set of her wife Ellen DeGeneres' talk show – because she's desperate to make a big TV comeback. "She's gone from ice queen to nice queen almost overnight," said a close friend. The sudden change in attitude has everyone on Ellen's set in shock. "Portia used to keep to herself, but now she's all smiles, saying hi to everyone and even posing for pictures," noted the friend. The career of the 40-year-old "Ally McBeal" and "Arrested Development" actress has sputtered in recent years, and she's apparently looking for a choice new project.

Said the friend: "Portia's already put her feelers out to different networks, and she knows it won't hurt if word spreads that she's a great person to be around."

JOLIE MASTECTOMY PICTURE SPARKS OUTRAGE!

Screen beauty's pain OVER TOPLESS IMAGE

A SHOCKING image of Angelina Jolie has surfaced, outraging the screen beauty and her partner Brad Pitt, says a source.

An artist has painted a disturbing portrait of Angelina, showing what he believes she looked like after her brave decision to have a double mastectomy earlier this year. The Los Angeles gallery Art Below plans to auction off the painting – and it's expected to fetch around $22,000!

"The last thing Brad wants is for his kids to be exposed to the picture," said a source. "He'd like to buy it and lock it away."

PROCEEDS FROM THE SALE ARE slated to go to a charity that promotes peace in Africa, a cause that 38-year-old Angelina "is very passionate about," according to the gallery.

The portrait by Swedish artist Johan Andersson shows a naked Angelina from mid-chest up just weeks after her surgery. It's already been posted on the Internet – and irate fans are blasting the painter.

One angry blogger called Andersson a "no talent bottom feeder who is trying to gain fame off her misfortune."

To make matters even worse, the portrait is said to be inaccurate by overstating the effects of the operation and removing her nipples, noted the source.

Meanwhile, the Oscar-winning actress has downplayed the surgical damage and says that her children "can see my small scars and that's it. Everything else is just Mommy, the same as she always was."

This is not the first time that Angelina has been victimized in the name of art.

As THE ENQUIRER reported earlier this year, Brad, 49, was desperate to purchase a photo of Angelina posing topless with a horse nuzzling her chest. And in January, we reported that Brad was ready to shell out a staggering $10 million to buy up raunchy photos and a rumored sex tape of his fiancée.

Portrait is expected to fetch around $22K at auction

The latest controversy was apparently spawned by the artist's family history. Andersson's mom was stricken with breast cancer when he was 15, and he said: "The recent news about Angelina stirred an anxiety within me, leading me to paint this portrait."

Angelina decided to undergo the double mastectomy after a genetic test discovered she was at high risk of developing breast cancer. She bravely went public with the news and says she is "very happy" with her decision.

"I feel empowered that I made a strong choice that in no way diminishes my femininity."

this JUST IN!

The ceremony will take place at the couple's estate in France

THE guest list to Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie's upcoming wedding just got shorter by three.

After her double mastectomy, Angelina began finalizing plans for the widely anticipated nuptials. The big event is expected to take place in September at their spectacular $60 million estate in France, where they produce their own popular wine.

But when it comes to the guests who'll be sipping the elegant rosé, Angelina is saying "no way" to a trio of Brad's buddies – bad-boy director Quentin Tarantino and actors Jonah Hill and Philip Seymour Hoffman.

"ANGIE WANTS HER WEDDING TO BE perfect, and that applies to the guest list as much as anything else," said an insider. "She respects Brad's right to be friends with whoever he wants, but there's no way she's allowing any of these guys to attend their wedding."

"The official line she's giving is that this is an 'intimate celebration for only the closest friends and family.' But the brutal truth is that she considers these three to be bad influences on Brad."

As THE ENQUIRER previously reported, sources say Brad has been smoking a lot of pot to cope with his anxiety surrounding Angelina's decision to undergo a double mastectomy to stave off the high risk of breast and ovarian cancer that runs in her family.

And Angelina was said to be furious when Tarantino blabbed about smoking hashish with Brad while the two were discussing making the 2009 movie "Inglourious Basterds."

"He takes out this brick of hash, whips out a knife, like Jesse James, and cuts me off a big sliver," Quentin, 50, told an interviewer.

Meanwhile, Hoffman, 45, has a history of substance abuse and reportedly suffered a recent heroin relapse. And Jonah, 29, has joined pal Leonardo DiCaprio's hard-partying

The "World War Z" hunk grew close to Philip and Jonah while they were filming 2011's "Moneyball." Sources say the trio had such a blast working together that they're already talking about another joint project.

"ANGIE DOESN'T WANT THESE guys around," continued the source. "And that's very tough for Brad to accept, because these are people he cares a lot about and wants to be part of his special day."

But as The ENQUIRER has reported, mom-of-six Angelina, 38, has had an uneasy relationship with her 49-year-old fiancé's buddies, including his "Ocean's Eleven" co-star George Clooney.

Adding to their pre-wedding day blues, Brad and Angelina are also at odds over the best man. She wants her brother, actor James Haven, to serve the role while Brad prefers his younger brother Doug, said the source.

According to another insider, Brad is "quietly fuming" but is letting Angelina call the shots because he doesn't want to cause her any stress right now.

"Years ago this would have sparked a huge argument," the insider added. "But Brad's not willing to upset her considering everything she's been through lately."

"He worships Angie and wants this day to be perfect for her and the kids."

"That means she gets her way on everything, including the guest list."

SUSIE and Dan Kellogg are living a life most people only dream about.

Tired of the 9-to-5 daily grind, the Colorado couple packed up their belongings – and 12 kids – rented out their house and hit the road. They're now traveling the country in a 36-foot RV, and they couldn't be happier!

"Every single day is a weekend for us," boasts Susie, 38. "People say to us, 'Wow! You're doing what most people fantasize about.'"

"We know it – and we're loving every minute of it."

The Kelloggs realized they could live life on the road during a family vacation last summer. Since Dan works from home as a software engineer, his office could be anywhere in the world – even a picnic table in a campground.

"WE WANTED TO LIVE FREE and breathe," says Susie, who now home-schools their kids.

While personal space is at a minimum in the cramped camper, Susie says they manage to make it work.

"We're only inside to sleep and travel," she says.

Oldest daughter Kerry was skeptical at first, but now she loves her new home. Her little brother Kenny (left) chops wood for a campfire

"The rest of the time we're outdoors. We eat and work on campground picnic tables. We hike. We're in the water wherever we go."

Because of the tight quarters, each of the kids was allowed to bring two favorite things.

"One of them wanted to bring the trampoline," says Dan, smiling. "But that was out of the question."

Kayaking is a family passion, with all of the kids – who range in age from 7 months to 19 – getting in on the act.

"This is what freedom is," says Dan. "You go after it."

Since leaving their homestead in Glenwood Springs, Colo., in early January, the family has spent time in Alabama, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina.

"We always choose campgrounds that have plenty of water – and showers," Susie says. "We stay as long as we can in one place and then use guidebooks to carefully choose our next stop. We home-school in the mornings. Afternoons are for exploring the woods, waters and scenery of our latest location."

ALTHOUGH THE KIDS ARE thrilled with their new life, not everyone was on board with the plan from the start – particularly oldest daughter Kerry.

"I thought that going in an RV wasn't normal and was weird," she admits. But it wasn't long before she had a change of heart. "We can do anything we want now. And nothing is holding us back."

In fact, Kerry is so happy that she's decided to pass up college and start her own graphic arts company.

"This has brought us all closer as a family," Susie adds. "We work together, study together and play together. It really is paradise."

The late performer's former lover, Scott Thorson, told The ENQUIRER that Liberace lusted after screen icon Cary Grant and football superstars Joe Namath and O.J. Simpson!

"Liberace was constantly on the prowl,

Liberace's shows in Las Vegas," Thorson recalled. "Liberace pointed him out to me in the audience and said, 'Look at Cary over there with all of those women. What a waste of a good man!'"

But Liberace, who contracted AIDS and died in 1987, also liked athletes.

"Whenever he saw a picture of Joe Namath he became giggly like a schoolgirl," said Thorson. "Liberace once said to me, 'I'm not a fan of football, but I like how he wears that uniform. Sure wish he played for the other team.'"

THE troubled hubby of "The Real Housewives of New Jersey" star Teresa Giudice is facing a hefty jail sentence, and he's already planning on becoming a REEL celebrity convict!

Sources say Joe Giudice, who could be tossed in the slammer for more than 10 years, is scrambling to set up a reality show behind bars.

"The show would focus on Joe's day-to-day life in prison," said a pal.

"It would follow him as he comes to grips with being stripped of his freedom and interacting with other inmates."

The beleaguered businessman's legal woes date back to December 2011, when a grand jury in Passaic County, N.J., handed down a two-count indictment against him for allegedly obtaining a fraudulent driver's license using his brother's name.

Giudice, 43, faces 10 years behind bars for the first count – wrongly using identifying information of another person. The second count, impersonation, is punishable by up to 18 months. His trial is set to start July 15, and prosecutors are confident Giudice will be convicted.

"We have enough evidence in this case beyond a reasonable doubt to prove guilt," Jay W. McCann, Passaic County chief assistant prosecutor, told The ENQUIRER.

But sources say Giudice, a former developer who was forced to file for bankruptcy along with his wife, isn't even waiting for his trial to start to make plans for the new reality show.

"Joe has already spoken to producers who've said they believe they could work out an arrangement to film at a New Jersey state prison," said another source.

"Joe wants the show to be a 'Housewives' spinoff on Bravo so he could include scenes of Teresa and maybe even other cast members visiting him. Filming would also make doing his time a little easier. It would break up the daily routine and give him something to look forward to."

But that's ancient news to ENQUIRER readers! We reported the shocker way back in 2004, when Thorson described to us his first sexual encounter with Jackson at the home of the late British female impersonator Danny La Rue. "Michael... motioned with his hand to come over to him and join him on the bed," Thorson told The ENQUIRER. "Our passionate lovemaking session lasted about an hour." "He's got a cafeteria scene, a visitors' room scene, plus scenes from the exercise yard and in his cell," said the source. "Joe envisions himself sitting around with his posse and dispensing advice like the godfather. And if Joe is convicted, he wants to fire his lawyer in the opening scene."

Nationally syndicated media critic Bill Mann believes Giudice's pitch has merit.

"If Joe's plan makes it to TV, it could really take off," Mann told The ENQUIRER. "There have been lots of prison shows, but by mixing the popular 'Real Housewives' franchise with a look at one of its characters behind bars, it adds a whole different element of drama."

There's just one problem.

Chat king's plea to medic who saved his life

LETTERMAN SENDS FOR FAT DOCTOR

THERE's always a doctor in the house at the "Late Show with David Letterman."

The talk-show host has given his old friend Dr. Lou Aronne a regular gig as "staff physician."

Now a lot of "belt-tightening" is going on at Dave's Worldwide Pants production company as the renowned weight-loss expert helps staffers slim down and shape up.

"Dave originally made Dr. Lou a staff physician simply because he'd been on the show dozens of times," said a source close to the entertainer. "But everyone was always asking him questions about diets and workouts. So Dave figured Dr. Lou could put staffers on a regular regimen to get fit."

Dave and the physician have had a tight bond for decades. "Dr. Lou saved my life," Letterman declares in the forward to the obesity specialist's best-selling weight-loss book, "The Skinny: On Losing Weight Without Being Hungry."

In 2000, the physician persuaded Letterman to have medical tests when he began experiencing chest pains. It turned out he had five clogged vessels in his heart and needed emergency bypass surgery. "Dr. Lou put me on a path to healthy living," says the talk host.

THE GOOD DOCTOR ALSO HELPED 66-YEAR-OLD DAVE beat crippling depression. Letterman has admitted he was "quite skeptical" about taking drugs for his condition. But he finally followed his pal's advice.

Nick let it be known that he had a "weapon" and knew how to use it

Neighbors TELL ALL!

BOBBI KRISTINA's former neighbors are relieved that she and her fiancé Nick Gordon have been booted from their neighborhood, but they now fear for the life of Whitney Houston's troubled daughter.

In an exclusive ENQUIRER interview, one neighbor revealed disturbing details about the couple's June 5 eviction from their Alpharetta, Ga., apartment – including violent fights, drug- and booze-filled all-nighters and death threats against anyone who complained.

Although Bobbi Kristina's reps issued a statement denying that she and Nick had been forced to leave, a neighbor, who wishes to remain anonymous for fear of reprisal, said 20-year-old Krissi (as she's known to friends) and Nick, 24, were a "nightmare" to live near and were kicked out of the apartment.

KRISSI AND NICK, WHO'S ALSO HER "adopted brother," paid approximately $2,000 a month for their unit at the AMLI North Point apartments on Beaver Creek Road. But the neighbor says the young couple quickly turned their home into a flop house for pals after moving in about a year ago.

"These friends were just a bunch of strangers who always came with arms full of booze and looking for a good time," the neighbor claimed. "I have never been inside their apartment, but I understand from other people on the same floor that there were drugs and liquor all over the place in there."

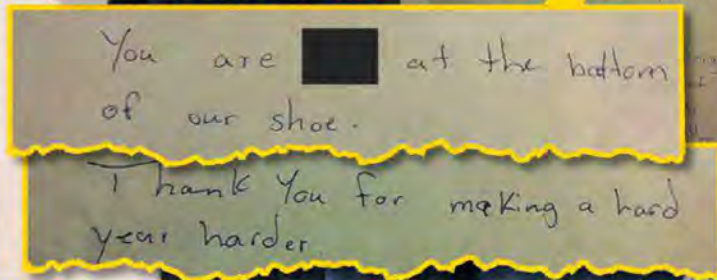

"They played loud music all night disturbing everyone around them until 6 a.m. – and they didn't care." Neighbors complained multiple

The late singer's daughter allegedly wrote a nasty "farewell" letter (below) to her neighbors after she and her fiancé Nick Gordon were booted from their abode times to the management office and the Alpharetta Police Department, which infuriated Nick, says the neighbor.

"Nick didn't actually pull his gun out on anyone, but he let it be known that he had a 'weapon' and knew how to use it," the neighbor recalled. "He actually said, 'You all better shut the (bleep) up or else!'"

Krissi, on the other hand, would play the "Whitney card," telling unhappy neighbors they should "get off her back" because she's still dealing with grief from her mother's death, according to the source. The "I Will Always Love You" singer drowned in her bathtub at the Beverly Hilton hotel on Feb. 11, 2012.

Bobbi Kristina inherited about $20 million from her mom. She gets 10 percent of it when she turns 21 next March, another portion when she turns 25 and the remainder on her 30th birthday.

But that money apparently didn't buy Bobbi Kristina and Nick any friends in their neighborhood. The last straw came about a week before their eviction, when a violent fight erupted in their apartment after Nick crashed his car into the door of the complex's underground parking garage.

"I could hear glasses being thrown and shattered," said the neighbor. "I was worried that Krissi was being seriously hurt. It wasn't the first time we heard fights and loud noise coming from Krissi's apartment, but this time it sounded much more serious."

Several neighbors, including Joshua Morse, who lived downstairs, got a nasty handwritten "farewell" letter, allegedly from Krissi, sarcastically "thanking" them for "making a hard year harder."

A family friend calls Bobbi Kristina "literally homeless" now and believes the young couple will have problems finding another apartment complex that will take them in.

"No one knows where they are staying now or will live in the near future."

Concluded the neighbor: "I am so glad it's over for us, but I'm afraid it's not over for Krissi – and that's what's so sad. Nick is bad news. We're afraid for her life."

'BACHELORETTE' BRAD BUSTED!

— for beating his lover — COURT DOCS

B“ACHELORETTE” contestant Bradley McKinzie hopes to win the heart of beautiful Desiree Hartsock — but his dream is likely to go up in smoke when his violent past is exposed.

The ENQUIRER has learned exclusively that Bradley was busted for domestic violence in 2009 and slapped with a restraining order.

Court documents reveal that handsome accountant Bradley, 27, was arrested after allegedly beating up his then-girlfriend of five years, Brittnee Nelson, in 2009.

According to a criminal report obtained by The ENQUIRER, a neighbor called for help after overhearing a heated argument. She told police Bradley thought she was cheating on him and a fight broke out.

Brittnee says she was scared and locked herself in a bedroom. Bradley punched the bedroom door, according to the report, and Brittnee tried to flee from the apartment to her car.

According to court records, Brittnee said Bradley hit her in the face, making her nose bleed, then pushed her down, breaking several of her fingernails. She also claimed he had previously shoved her one night in Denver.

The accountant was taken to jail and a mandatory protection order was issued against him. But Brittnee later changed her story, saying he was only trying to stop her from driving drunk. The charges were eventually dropped.

“I hope someone warns Desiree this guy is no good,” said a source. “If he hit a girl once, he could do it again.” Meanwhile, Bradley’s luck got off to a rough start on “The Bachelorette’s” season opener when he emerged from the limo with a wishbone that he and Desiree pulled on. He was left with the short end, meaning his wish won’t come true!

BALD TRUTH ABOUT TYRA

A“AMERICA’S NEXT TOP MODEL” star Tyra Banks has gone from a red-hot supermodel to a frumpy-dumpy mess — and she needs a makeover FAST!

The former talk-show host, who turns 40 later this year, looked rundown when she was photographed after having lunch with a mystery man in New York City recently — a far cry from her days as a “Sports Illustrated” cover model.

But top plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn says a few nips and tucks in the right places could restore the former Victoria’s Secret Angel to her former glory.

“Wow, Tyra doesn’t look like her old self!” Dr. Youn told The ENQUIRER. “Her hair looks thin and even a little receding. She might consider laser treatments, which can thicken her hair.

Only hair-transplant surgery would move her hairline though.”

Dr. Youn, who has not treated Tyra, thinks eyelid surgery would help with the puffiness under her eyes. And a little liposuction would go a long way in removing the extra fat under her chin and around her midsection and thighs, he says.

Model's hairline is receding

THE LIPO WOULD COST her $10,000, while the eyelid surgery would run about $5,000. The laser hair treatments average around $3,000.

“The whole thing would cost approximately $18,000,” added Dr. Youn.

The 20th season of “America’s Next Top Model” premieres on Aug. 2 on the CW network. For the first time in the show’s history, men will be allowed to compete for “Top Model” honors.

"BACHELORETTE" Desiree Hartsock was touched when handsome hopeful Brooks Forester confessed he'd been abandoned by his dad as a kid, but the contestant's father insists there was a good reason for his disappearance.

In an exclusive ENQUIRER interview, Gary Forester, 72, revealed the stunning secret why he left his family behind in Boise, Idaho, to move to Costa Rica – he was an informant for the feds!

"I love all of my children, but I moved to Costa Rica because I got a job offer," Gary explained. "I am a homeopathic doctor, so I took a position down there...but I was also an informant for the CIA and DEA. I can't go into all of the details because a lot of that information is still secret but, needless to say, it was fascinating and also dangerous."

On the show, Brooks, 28, a marketing rep and part-time model, emotionally told Desiree, 27, that his parents divorced when he was 13 and he had been angry with his father for years.

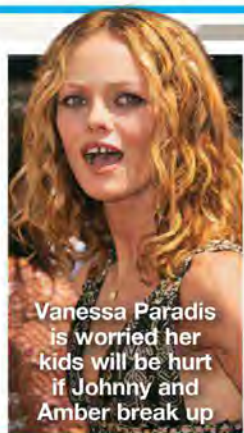

But "Brooks and I have a great relationship now," insisted Gary.

"The time I was gone is in the past and we are all fine now."

GARY – WHO RUNS A LARGE fruit farm in Livingston, Texas, with his current wife Zhu Xu Mei – says he doesn't know if his son will be the last man standing on the hit ABC show's finale in August, but he hopes so. Although Season 9 just premiered, filming wrapped in early May, and Desiree DID choose a fiancé, say sources.

"Brooks didn't confirm to me that he and Desiree are engaged," Gary added.

"But I did tell him that if they are, she would be welcomed into the family with open arms."

JOHNNY'S

JOHNNY DEPP's former lover is warning the "Pirates of the Caribbean" star not to marry bisexual girlfriend Amber Heard. Vanessa Paradis, Johnny's partner for 14 years before they split a year ago, is afraid that their two kids will grow too attached to Amber and get hurt when the relationship falls apart.

"Vanessa doesn't care for Amber at all," said a source. "She's convinced that Amber's trying to get her hooks into Johnny and his money by getting him to propose."

"But Vanessa doesn't believe it's going to last, and that's why she's against Johnny marrying Amber. She thinks their kids will be crushed when the relationship goes south."

Last July, The ENQUIRER reported that Vanessa, 40, slapped Johnny with an ultimatum, demanding that he keep Amber away from their children, Lily-Rose, 14, and Jack, 11. But insiders say Johnny has already introduced the leggy "Zombieland" actress to the kids.

Johnny, 50, and Amber, 27, met in 2009 on the set of their flick, "The Rum Diary," and grew closer after Johnny dumped Vanessa in June 2012. Around the same time, Amber split with her girlfriend, Hawaiian-born artist Tasya van Ree.

JOHNNY AND THE BISEXUAL BLONDE kept their affair quiet until recently, and they were spotted together on May 22 dining in West Hollywood with Rolling Stones rockers Keith Richards and Ron Wood.

Sources say Johnny seems to get a lot of "Satisfaction" from his new squeeze, but Vanessa thinks he's just having a midlife crisis.

"Vanessa thinks he's smitten because Amber's so exotic and says he'll grow tired of her," added the source. "But before he does, he just might pop the question – and that's the last thing Vanessa wants."

MOST Americans know little about North Korea – except its leaders like to launch missiles.

But now the former sushi chef to the country's late "Dear Leader" Kim Jong-il has revealed the dictator's wildly extravagant tastes.

The Japanese chef – who wrote the memoir "I Was Kim Jong-il's Cook" under the alias Kenji Fujimoto – claims he flitted around the world on Kim's jets to pick up goodies.

He zipped to Iran for caviar, Denmark for beer and ham, and France, where he bought $700,000 worth of cognac and enough wine to fill Kim's 10,000-bottle cellar.

When the Dear Leader had a craving for McDonald's, Fujimoto flew 500 miles to Beijing for an order of Big Macs to go.

But his most frequent trips were to Japan, where he bought fresh fish and stocked up on tapes of Kim's favorite cooking show, "Iron Chef." After watching the tapes, the two engaged in long debates about Kobe beef, truffles and foie gras. When the men relaxed together, they sipped pricey French Bordeaux wine and discussed the Dear Leader's favorite Arnold Schwarzenegger movies.

Fujimoto often prepared sushi for "executives" – generals, party officials or high-level bureaucrats – at parties that sometimes went on for days. When they finally ended, the chef was handed envelopes stuffed with $100 U.S. bills.

But he walked a tightrope while preparing the Dear Leader's meals. Each grain of Kim's rice was inspected for flaws – only perfectly shaped rice, grown in North Korea, could be used.

AND IN A FEAT OF CULINARY derring-do, Fujimoto dazzled Kim's entire entourage by serving the freshest dish on earth – still-breathing fish that he'd filleted alive by cutting around the organs!

Kim Jong-il ruled the renegade nation from 1994 until his death in 2011, at which point he was succeeded by his son Kim Jong-un. Meanwhile, Fujimoto fled North Korea but is now on good terms with the younger Kim. "I was very afraid of failing because I knew I would be shot," said Fujimoto. "But I learned if I didn't make any mistakes, I would be OK."

On May 30, the "New York Post" reported that Cameron, 40, was getting close to Elon Musk, the 41-year-old founder of Internet giant PayPal and head honcho of the electric car company Tesla Motors.

But ENQUIRER readers already knew about the budding relationship. In our May 27 issue, we reported that the Hollywood golden girl was looking to land a wealthy hubby – and she'd enlisted the aid of Jane Fonda, who once reeled in deep-pocketed media mogul Ted Turner.

We revealed that Fonda was encouraging Cameron to pursue Musk, who's said to be an inspiration for "Iron Man" billionaire Tony Stark, played by Robert Downey Jr.

We also noted that Diaz and Musk have had a flirty relationship since she bought a car from him recently. So once again, The ENQUIRER is first with breaking Hollywood news!

Sandra Bullock CAUGHT IN DRUG NIGHTMARE

Addiction & rehab heartache Oscar winner IS HIDING FROM FANS

BEHIND her brave smile, "Miss Congeniality" star Sandra Bullock is facing a devastating drug heartbreak.

Insiders close to the Oscar-winning actress say she's distraught over news that the teen daughter of former husband Jesse James, Chandler, is battling an addiction to crystal meth.

"This has been an absolute nightmare for Sandra," said a close source. "She considered Chandler to be like a daughter when she was married to Jesse. And Chandler loved Sandra like a mother – that's how close they were."

"WHEN SANDRA HEARD about Chandler's addiction problem, she was crushed. She was also furious with Jesse. As her father, Sandra thinks he should have been keeping an eye on her. But he didn't."

"All of Chandler's friends in Austin were aware she was struggling with a terrible drug problem – and Sandra wants to know why Jesse, her own father, didn't seem to know it."

The teen checked into rehab in April for drug addiction, seeking help at an undisclosed facility after reportedly abusing several substances, including methamphetamine and keyboard cleaner. Earlier this year, photos emerged of the 18-year-old inhaling what appeared to be crystal meth at a party.

In an e-mail statement to celebrity website Radar Online, the 44-year-old West Coast Choppers owner and "Monster Garage" star confirmed that Chandler had spent the month of April undergoing treatment. He added that she's now attending Alcoholics Anonymous meetings and working through the 12-step program.

Sandra, 48, who has known Chandler since she was a little girl, was heartbroken when she found out about the teen's troubles, says the source.

"Sandra was crying her heart out," the source continued. "She's also worried sick that, somehow, the effects of her divorce from Jesse may have had a terrible impact upon Chandler...that she spun out of control after that."

"Sandy can't help wondering if things had turned out differently for her and Jesse, this might never have happened."

Chandler, whose mom was Jesse's first wife, Karla Huber, is the oldest of Jesse's three children. He also has a son, Jesse Jr., with Karla, and a daughter, Sunny, from his second

The tattooed troublemaker married America's sweetheart Sandra in 2005. "The Blind Side" star adopted her son Louis in January 2010, just a couple of months before she found out that Jesse had been cheating on her with inked stripper Michelle "Bombshell" McGee.

They split in March 2010 and their divorce was final by the following June.

Hoping that the fourth time's the charm, Jesse married billionaire heiress Alexis DeJoria in an extravagant and expensive affair in Malibu in March.

"Sandra's heart really goes out to Chandler right now," the insider added. "She really hopes the girl will be able to stay clean and sober. But for now, Sandra is taking this whole thing really hard."

SLIMMED-down Mo'Nique is on a quest to help everyone lose weight, and she's starting with her plus-size "Precious" co-star Gabourey Sidibe.

But Gabby – who reportedly weighs as much as 350 pounds – told the Oscar winner:

"Thanks, but no thanks."

"Mo'Nique's weight loss journey has been slow but steady, and the results have completely changed her outlook on life," a source told The ENQUIRER. "She looks and feels amazing and that's why she reached out to Gabby."

"Mo'Nique knows how hard it is to be heavy, and since she and Gabby have discussed their battle of the bulge, she thought she could reach out."

"Unfortunately, Gabby politely declined."

The 45-year-old former star of "The Parkers," who's been documenting her weight loss on Twitter for the past three years, has dropped from a high of 300 pounds to less than 220.

AS THE ENQUIRER REPORTED IN our June 10 issue, former "View" co-host Star Jones, who shed 160 pounds through gastric bypass surgery, questioned whether Mo'Nique was being honest about her weight-loss methods. But Mo'Nique brushed off the comments, accusing Star of being jealous for not being able to handle her own weight issues without resorting to surgery.

Meanwhile, Mo'Nique was so anxious to share her success with 30-year-old Gabby that she offered to perform dual workouts with her over the Internet video phone service Skype.

But Gabby, who just wrapped up four seasons on Showtime's "The Big C," wasn't moved.

"Gabby loves Mo'Nique and thinks it's great that she's losing weight, but she's just not interested in dieting at this point in her life," added the source.

Gabourey Sidibe with Mo'Nique in "Precious"

"She says she knows she has to do something, but she'll do it in her own time and on her own terms."

The first-ever "Marine Corps Pride" Statue

"Semper Fi." A historic motto every Marine knows to mean "Always Faithful." Now, The Bradford Exchange is thrilled to present "Marine Corps Pride," a hand-cast and hand-painted sculpture of impressive size and stature.

This statue is individually crafted to realistically capture the look of a World War II Marine—one of the proudest periods of service still honored by today's Marine. Officially licensed, "Marine Corps Pride" authentically recreates the field gear, weaponry and uniform of these revered Marines. The first stanza of The Marines' Hymn is presented in golden tones on a commemorative metal banner.

Exceptional value; satisfaction guaranteed

"Marine Corps Pride" comes with a 365-day money-back guarantee and is issued in a limited edition. Act now to obtain it in four interest-free installments of $24.98, for a total of $99.95*, backed by our 365-day guarantee. Send no money now. Just return the Reservation Application today!

Shellie burst into tears of joy as she watched her hubby perform with "AGT" host Nick Cannon

'It's time for you to show the world'

NOW

"AGT" judges were apparently taken in by Marty Brown, whom they thought was an amateur

IN an outrageous hoax, scheming "America's Got Talent" producers pulled the wool over the eyes of the audience and judges on its season premiere by presenting a country star from the 1990s as an amateur contestant.

Marty Brown knocked 'em dead with his performance of Garth Brooks' "To Make You Feel My Love," but it was never revealed that the 47-year-old singer had released three well-received albums on MCA records beginning in 1990.

Brown even performed at the Grand Ole Opry — home to the greatest country stars — and was a frequent guest on Nashville legend Ralph Emery's TV talk show. What's more, the multitasking performer also wrote the title song on Tracy Byrd's album "I'm From the Country," which soared to No. 3 on the charts in 1998.

"PRESENTING MARTY AS AN UNKNOWN ON 'America's Got Talent' was dishonest at best, a complete farce at worst," an insider told THE ENQUIRER.

"The show is fighting for ratings in its eighth season, so they put on a ringer and kept the audience and judges in the dark."

Brown was introduced on the June 4 premiere as a Kentucky carpenter who sang to entertain his family. He earned a standing ovation, prompting his wife Shellie to burst into tears of joy as she watched from the wings.

Afterward, judge Heidi Klum asked Shellie to take the stage, and she told the audience: "We sing around the kitchen table for breakfast, lunch and dinner, and I said, 'Honey, it's time for you to show the world.' But I had to trick him (into auditioning)."

She claimed she secretly put his guitar into the car

'AGT' bosses recruit country 'ringer' AS CONTESTANT

THEN

Marty recorded well-received albums on MCA records, was a frequent guest on a popular Nashville TV talk show, performed at the Grand Ole Opry and is an accomplished songwriter trunk and it wasn't until Marty asked where they were headed that she gave him the surprise of his life, telling him: "We're going to do 'America's Got Talent.'"

Judges Klum, Howard Stern, Mel B and Howie Mandel were apparently taken in by the underhanded hoax as Stern told the singer: "You're a great undiscovered treasure — the only question I have is where have you been?"

An ENQUIRER investigation answers that question, and he's certainly not a new discovery!

When Brown first hit the Nashville music scene, he was hailed as the second coming of Hank Williams Sr. and often compared to his fellow Kentuckian, country superstar Dwight Yoakam.

Critics raved about his albums, and the videos for his songs "Every Now and Then" and "It Must Be the Rain" aired frequently on TNN. But he never scored a No. 1 hit, and that led to his downfall.

"It really ate away at Marty," said a friend. "He grew very bitter. He had a busted marriage, drank way too much and got in trouble."

In 1997, Brown finally hit rock bottom. He was arrested for stealing an engine block and selling it as scrap metal, said the friend. He was fined and put on probation.

"Eventually the bigwigs didn't want to deal with him any longer," revealed a close source. "But for 'America's Got Talent' to pretend like he's a complete nobody — heck, Marty's better known than 99 percent of the people who come to Nashville with dreams of becoming a star."

"I know what it's like to be overweight — Nutrisystem changed my life. It WILL change yours, too!"

Marie Osmond found herself fighting a losing battle with her weight. Like many of us, the constant battle between family and work created stress and distractions that kept her from living the life she desperately wanted. But one day she realized that she needed to take control. She did her research and found Nutrisystem to be the perfect solution for her.

I've gotta be honest. I was overweight and out of shape. I didn't feel good. I was tired. My joints ached. My confidence was down.

Like so many of you, I was unhappy about how I looked and how I felt. I knew I was getting older but I didn't want to feel older. I was having a pretty stressful year. But one of the best things that happened to me was the Nutrisystem® weight loss program.

Nutrisystem Got Me Back On Track

Talk about stress. Here I was, a single mom, managing a career. It was very easy to put on a few pounds here and there. Sometimes life just gets you off track—and before you know it, you're 50 pounds heavier. Well, Nutrisystem got me back on track. If you're busy this is perfect for you.

Counting, measuring, weighing in—I've been there. Weight loss plans, I've tried them all. Thankfully, I found Nutrisystem. Nutrisystem is the only one that worked for me. It's simple—they send you food, you just heat it up and enjoy it—and it taught me how to eat right. Trust me. When you have eight kids and a busy career, you need a lot of patience. What I didn't need was a lot of work. Most of the meals take less than two minutes to prepare and I don't have to count calories or points or anything.

Wow! I Feel Great!

When I started Nutrisystem, my first goal was to be healthy. But as a woman I love having a small waistline and an even smaller backside. And I have to admit, thanks to Nutrisystem, I have both.

Look, Nutrisystem Success is their best, tastiest program ever. Their pastas, pizzas and pancakes are delicious. And on my gosh...their ice cream is just...WOW!

And on Nutrisystem you get to eat six times a day so you don't feel hungry, and it's affordable, too!

This is What 50 Can Look Like!

My own mother had carried extra weight most of her life, and that made her look older. As I approached my 50s, I was 50 pounds overweight and tired all the time, and I definitely looked older—and felt older. I started to think, Like mother, like daughter.

But now I look and feel better in my clothes. In fact, my daughter found an amazing costume that I wore as a teen and dared me to try it on. It fit! I admit it: it's fun to wear that dress on stage again. Plus, I retired my mom's jeans—now I wear skinny jeans!

Losing Weight Means So Much More to Me than My Clothes

I admit it. I love to get compliments. It makes me feel good to hear that I look great. But it's not being skinny that makes me happy; what's most important is that I'm healthier.

My Family Is So Proud of Me!

As women, we spend a lot of time caring for everyone else but spend zero time for ourselves. But as the old saying goes, If mamma ain't happy, ain't nobody happy. I finally did something great for me...so I could do something great for my family. Losing weight may not make me a better mom. But it does make me a happier mom. And that makes all the difference in the world.

Now I Have So Much Energy, I Can Accomplish Anything!

I lost the weight. And here I am five years later feeling fantastic, energetic and healthy!

More important, I enjoy family time more. I have more energy to do things with my four younger children than I had with my four older children. That's the truth. I'm just happy and loving life so much more. They say you can't turn back time. Well, look at me and say that. Because I say you CAN.

You Can Get the Life You Want

I know what it's like to be overweight. I know what it's like when life gets the better of you. I know how stress and personal tragedy can impact your self-esteem and your health.

Being overweight is not just something you have to accept as you get older. You can change everything, lose weight, and do it in a healthy way. C'mon. Do something for YOU. Change your life. Get the body you want now.

"You get to eat six times a day and you lose weight. I mean, look at me—I have a waistline again!"

Surrender to 400 Carats of Temptation

The Stauer Voros Collection is a magnificently massive collection of smoldering rubies that may trigger some extremely pleasant side effects

Are you ready for this necklace? You might think you are, but when dealing with 400 carats of the most robust red gem on the planet, we want you to be prepared. Before you invite the Stauer Voros Ruby Necklace into your home for only $149, you need to understand the consequences.

Possible side effects may include: spontaneous kissing and hugging, increased heart rate, slow dancing, and the urge to get away for the weekend. Some may experience: long walks on the beach, episodes of snuggling, spooning and staring lovingly into each other's eyes. Less serious side effects may include: increased appetite for romantic comedies and overuse of the words "honeypie" and "sweetheart."

Sound dramatic? You bet. But don't forget we're talking about ruby, the stone notorious for provoking passion, lust and intense romantic emotions throughout history. One look at the Voros and it's easy to see what all the fuss is about. Each smooth-polished nugget in the Voros Necklace is a genuine gemstone, deep crimson in color and infused with the incomparable mystique of rubies. The 18" strand is hand-strung, double-knotted with luxurious gold-finished beads and secures with a gold-finished lobster clasp.

We don't play by the luxury rules. We took the Voros Ruby Necklace to an independent appraiser who works with auction houses, estate sales and insurance companies. He valued it at $2,200. We thanked him for his professional opinion and then ignored it. Because even if a gemologist tells us that this necklace is valued at over $2,000, we want you to wear it for ONLY $149. Yes, we're serious.

Love it or get your money back. I guarantee that you'll adore the Stauer Voros Collection. But don't take my word for it, take the rubies for a test drive. If you're not 100% satisfied, send them back within 30 days and we'll refund every dollar of your purchase price. It really is that simple.

REVEALED! Secret world of $590m POWERBALL WINNER

■ Great-grandma, 84, couldn't afford to fix hearing aid

■ Thieves targeted her tiny home

■ Too proud to beg for help

WHEN Gloria Mackenzie hit a spectacular $590 million Powerball jackpot, she didn't think about buying a fancy new car, a mansion or a yacht.

Instead, the beloved 84-year-old great-grandmother wanted to splurge on something much more precious to her – a new hearing aid.

For months, she hid a heart-breaking secret from her neighbors in the rural community of Zephyrhills, Fla. – she was so poor she couldn't afford a new battery for her hearing aid. Then, in mid-May, a miracle turned her life around.

Gloria – who was living in a run-down one-bedroom duplex with a tin roof – beat astronomical odds of 175 million to 1 to become the biggest single lottery winner in U.S. history.

"She was too proud to beg for help from anyone," recalled a source close to her family. "It's wonderful that she'll now be able to hear properly again and never have to worry about where her next dollar is coming from."

GLORIA'S FRIEND DAWN GOURLAY – one of the few people who knew of her plight – added: "She was almost deaf. She has a degenerative hearing condition and she's had a problem with the battery in her earpiece for a long time."

The mother of four, who has four grandchildren and two great-grandkids, kept mostly to herself – waving at neighbors as they went to work in the morning but not able to hear what they were saying.

She remained steadfastly self-sufficient after the beloved husband she married following World War II passed away in 2005. Each month she scraped together $400 rent for the tiny home, which had recently been infested with dangerous brown widow spiders. And to make her quality of living even worse, heartless thieves stole her air conditioner a few months ago. She was so shaken by the theft that whenever she went for a walk she took along a cane for self-defense. But most days she stayed inside, watching TV and crocheting.

"She's a lovely, sweet old lady," said next-door neighbor Jorge Trapero. "She often talked to me about the problems with her house. One night I heard her scream. I went rushing over, thinking something terrible had happened. It turned out she'd just found a frog in her bedroom."

Now, happily, Gloria's worries are finally behind her – thanks to the lottery's mind-boggling payout.

Instead of taking the full $590 million spread over 30 years, she chose to receive a lump sum payment of $370.8 million, which works out to more than $278 million after taxes.

The A/C unit was stolen from Gloria's duplex apartment

But Gloria's win was a loss for a lot of other people. And the day she claimed her prize, 10-year-old Mallory Crandell was watching TV and said to her mother: "Isn't that the lady you let go in front of us in the lottery line?"

Mindy Crandell, 34, suddenly remembered giving up her place in a supermarket line so that an old lady wouldn't have to wait.

But Mindy isn't kicking herself over it. Since the quick pick $2 Powerball tickets are generated instantaneously at random, lottery officials say there was virtually no chance Mindy would have received the same numbers as Gloria.

“IRON MAN 3” star Robert Downey Jr. might be a superhero at work, but back home it's his wife Susan who rules the roost with an iron fist.

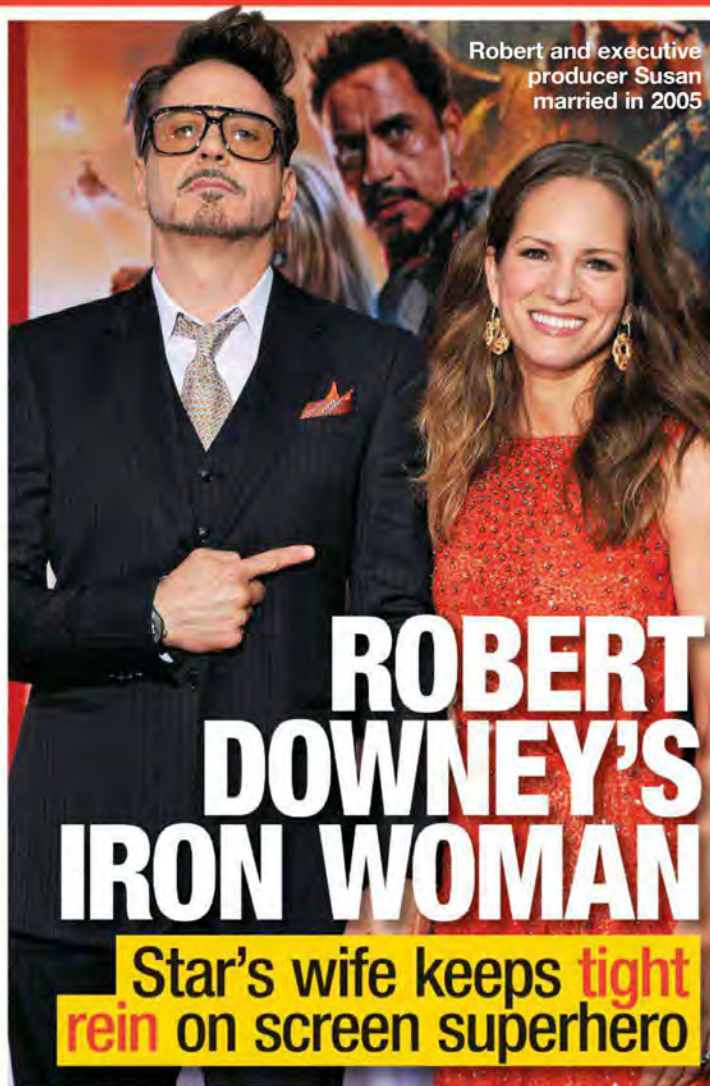

Insiders say she's so determined to keep her once-troubled hubby on the straight and narrow that she's laid down the law in their California homes – a $13 million mansion in Malibu and beach house in Venice – and Robert is more than happy to oblige.

“Bob hears and obeys,” said a pal. “He credits Susan with his success at staying sober and he totally trusts her judgment.”

ROBERT, 48, AND Susan, 39, a noted executive producer, married in 2005 and have a 16-month-old son, Exton. Before they met, Robert's life was ruled by his addictions. He was arrested on drug charges multiple times, made several attempts at rehab, and ultimately spent a year in jail for violating probation.

“He's always credited Susan for helping him finally kick his raging drug habit,” said the pal. “He knows that the worst thing about slipping up would be disappointing her – so he tries not to.”

“Bob has no problem cooking up a meal if Susan's stuck at work,” the pal revealed. “He'll go all out too. He'll put the baby to bed and then set up the table with candles and flowers to welcome her home.”

Susan is so focused on keeping her husband sober, adds the pal, that she's even banned some of his friends from their home – including “Transformers” star Shia LaBeouf, who allegedly had a few too many drinks at a party and was hitting on other guests.

“Susan has a one-strike policy,” noted the pal. “She's not the sort of person you'd want to mess with. She's a tough film executive, and she runs her home the same way she does her business ventures – efficiently.”

“I wouldn't go so far as to say Bob's completely under her thumb, but he certainly does what she says.”

TV GOES BACK

Michael with co-star Jack Gore from "The Michael J. Fox Show" and at right with the cast of "Family Ties"

MICHAEL J. FOX, "THE MICHAEL J. FOX SHOW"

Michael, 51, hasn't exactly been a stranger to television since he announced his Parkinson's diagnosis in 1998. He had an Emmy-winning role on the drama "Rescue Me" and an Emmy-nominated story line on "The Good Wife." But his upcoming role in this new NBC sitcom marks his return as a series star. The show is semi-autobiographical as he plays a news anchor and father of three who is coping with raising kids and – you guessed it – Parkinson's disease!

OLD STARS MAKE RETURN on new shows

GOTTA get back in time! Everything old is new again this fall as TV goes back to the future with some of America's favorite stars. From big-name, big-screen actors like Robin Williams – who began his career on the 1970's sitcom "Mork & Mindy" – to small-screen stalwarts like Michael J. Fox of "Family Ties" and "Spin City" fame, the upcoming season is jam-packed with audience favorites.

ROBIN WILLIAMS AND SARAH MICHELLE GELLAR, "THE CRAZY ONES"

In this CBS series from David E. Kelley ("Chicago Hope," "The Practice" and "Ally McBeal"), Robin, 61, plays zany ad executive Simon Roberts. Former "Buffy the Vampire Slayer" star Sarah Michelle Gellar, 36, portrays his daughter Sydney, also an executive at the firm.

James with William Shatner in "Boston Legal"

JAMES SPADER, "THE BLACKLIST"

The "Boston Legal" star finds himself on the wrong side of the law in this new NBC series. Playing a former government agent-turned-criminal mastermind, he suddenly surrenders to authorities in order to help the FBI catch a terrorist they long-believed was dead. James, 53, who's won three Emmys, was most recently seen on TV as the crazed Robert California, who briefly replaced Steve Carell for one season on "The Office."

TO THE FUTURE

Gillian with David Duchovny in "The X-Files"

Meloni with co-star Connor Buckley in "Surviving Jack"

Christopher with Mariska Hargitay in "Law & Order: SVU"

CHRISTOPHER MELONI, "SURVIVING JACK"

The 52-year-old actor best known as tough guy NYPD Det. Elliot Stabler on "Law & Order: SVU," tackles the role of Jack Dunlevy – a former military guy/oncologist/no-nonsense dad – in this coming-of-age FOX comedy.

GILLIAN ANDERSON, "CRISIS"

The former "X-Files" star, 44, hasn't headlined her own TV series in more than a decade, but now she's coming back in a big way. In this NBC thriller, Gillian plays the CEO of a conglomerate in Washington, D.C., whose daughter – portrayed by Nickelodeon star Halston Sage – is kidnapped with her entire class during a field trip, igniting a national crisis. The show also stars Dermot Mulroney, James Lafferty, Max Martini and Stevie Lynn Jones.

SEAN HAYES AND LINDA LAVIN, "SEAN SAVES THE WORLD"

Sean, 42, best known as wacky Jack McFarland on the hit sitcom "Will & Grace," returns to NBC as a divorced gay dad who tries to balance his work life with taking care of his teenage daughter, who moves in with him. Beloved "Alice" star Linda, now 75, plays his pushy mother.

MICHAEL VICK DOG FINDS NEW HOME... IN BROTHEL!

ONE of Michael Vick's rescued pit bulls has moved from the doghouse to the "cathouse"!

The lovable pooch, named Mel, was rescued from Vick's brutal dog-fighting operation at the Bad Newz Kennels in Virginia in 2007 – and he's now living the life of Riley at the Moonlite Bunny Ranch in Carson City, Nev.

MEL'S OWNER, RICHARD HUNTER, is the media director for Dennis Hof's world famous brothel and adopted the pooch from the Best Friends Animal Society in Kanab, Utah, in 2010.

"It was an extensive adoption process, but it was well worth the effort," said Hunter. "The Bunny Ranch is a very dog-friendly environment, and Mel comes in every day and he just fits right in. He's very popular with the ladies here."

"Everybody knows him and loves him. He can't walk 50 feet without one of the girls petting him or giving him a little treat or letting him take a nap in her room – everybody wants some time with Mel."

The little black pit bull terrier was used as a "bait" dog at Vick's ranch, thrown into the ring with fighting dogs so they'd get a "taste for blood." That kind of abuse earned Vick 19 months in a federal prison. The 32-year-old quarterback was released in 2009 and now plays for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Fortunately, Mel has made a lot of progress since his rescue six years ago and he finally feels safe because of all the love and affection he gets.

"After all he's been through," said Hunter, "Mel finally has a great life here at the Bunny Ranch."

IS A SPECIALIZED DIABETES TEST REALLY NECESSARY FOR OUR CAT?

Q. Our cat has been diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes and we are giving her insulin shots twice a day. We thought we had things under control, but lately she's drinking more water, indicating that she may not be getting enough insulin. Our veterinarian wants to do a fructosamine test that is a lot more expensive than a regular blood sugar test. Is this really necessary?

A. Yes. A single blood glucose test is only a measure of the level of sugar in the blood at one point in time. A sample taken right after eating is likely to be high while a sample taken six to eight hours after an insulin injection – without a meal – is likely to be low. A fructosamine test measures average glucose levels over the previous two to three weeks and can be very helpful in the management of diabetes in cats.

THE world was stunned when Paris Jackson – the beautiful and talented 15-year-old who has inherited a large portion of her late father's fortune – tried to kill herself by slashing her wrists and overdosing on drugs.

But now The ENQUIRER has gone behind the scenes to uncover the untold story of Paris' anguish – and learned that the troubled teen desperately wants to reunite with her beloved father, and “satanic” voices pushed her to suicide to achieve her misguided dream, according to family sources.

Paris has secretly visited her father Michael's crypt, insiders say, and her dramatic bid to end her life on June 5 came just hours after her grandmother Katherine angrily blasted her as a “devil worshipper.”

Now the deeply religious Jackson family matriarch is determined to exorcise her granddaughter's demons before time runs out.

“After Paris' suicide attempt, family members found videos on her phone and in her computer with Paris saying she was ‘tormented’ and heard voices telling her to kill herself,” said a Jackson family insider.

“In one video, Paris quoted the lyrics to a song by (the late rocker) Kurt Cobain called, ‘I Hate Myself and Want to Die.’”

“Katherine is now convinced that Cobain's music helped put suicidal thoughts in Paris' head.”

Another close friend told The ENQUIRER: “The family believes Paris had become a devil worshipper due to the satanic-influenced music she's been listening to and was hearing voices that tormented her.

“PARIS COULDN'T SLEEP AT NIGHT BECAUSE OF the voices. She was also becoming fascinated with bloody and gruesome ‘satanic rituals.’”

Paris and her brothers – Prince, 16, and Blanket, 11 – live with their grandmother in Calabasas, Calif.

But sources say her relationship with 83-year-old Katherine – the children's guardian – deteriorated dramatically after Paris became obsessed with the music of shock rocker

Psych ward FOR SUICIDAL JACKSON KID

What troubled Paris is worth

At 15, Paris Jackson is worth at least $100 million!

Her late father's estate has generated more than $600 million from his music, likeness and salvaged assets since he died in June 2009 – and that figure will likely balloon to more than $1 BILLION by the 10th anniversary of his death, according to published reports. So, if she lives to 21, Paris will be worth $300 million.

The “Michael Jackson Family Trust” dictates that the King of Pop's three children – Paris, and her brothers Prince and Blanket – share 40 percent of the trust, with the other 40 percent going to his mother Katherine, their guardian, and 20 percent to charities. When 83-year-old Katherine passes away, her slice of the pie will go directly to Michael's children, according to the trust.

Marilyn Manson and Cobain's grunge band Nirvana.

Things came to a head when Katherine banned Paris from attending Manson's June 6 Los Angeles concert.

"Katherine's ordinarily very mild-mannered," said the Jackson family insider. "But she was in an absolute fury with Paris."

"She told Paris that she'd had it with her rebellious ways and was convinced the girl had become a devil worshipper by listening to the 'disgusting' music of Marilyn Manson and Kurt Cobain."

"Katherine said the musicians were 'the spawn of Satan,' and if Paris continued listening to them, she'd be 'on the road to eternal damnation.'"

"Katherine told her, 'I will not allow you to worship the devil under my roof! These people are in league with Satan. They have seduced you, through their evil music, to follow them and become a devil worshipper too.'"

"Katherine told Paris that her remark was 'blasphemy,' and that Cobain was 'a Satanist,'" said the source.

"Katherine's also disgusted by Paris flashing the so-called 'Devil's Horns,' a Satanist symbol popular with heavy metal rockers."

With her life in turmoil, an agonized Paris has recently paid several secret visits to her father's crypt at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, Calif., sources say.

"She'd talk to Michael and break down crying," said the source. "She misses him so much. Paris thinks her dad is the only one who understood her."

Adding to her stress, Paris is also said to be steaming at being named a co-plaintiff in the Jackson family's $40 billion wrongful death lawsuit against concert promoters AEG Live.

The teenager finally buckled under the pressure in the early morning hours of June 5, and used her cell phone to record a message blasting the family.

"I hate you all! You just want my Dad's money!" Paris sobbed on the tape, a source told The ENQUIRER.

Soon after, Paris reportedly slashed her wrists and swallowed 20 Motrin pills. The aspiring actress was rushed to nearby West Hills Hospital and put on a 72-hour psychiatric hold, said a source.

"Paris was placed in a secure part of the mental ward," the source told The ENQUIRER. "Her bed had restraints to keep her from harming herself."

"She was subjected to a complete body search to make sure she wasn't hiding anything that could be used to commit suicide. Her fingernails were even filed down."

"Due to the overdose, her stomach was pumped. Then she was sedated and monitored around the clock."

MEANWHILE, SHOCK ROCKER Manson fueled the family's fears for Paris' mental health by dedicating a tune to the hospitalized teen at the concert she'd been forbidden to attend.

"This song is for Paris Jackson," Manson told the crowd, and launched into "Disposable Teens," which includes the lyrics, "And I'm a teen distortion...Survived abortion

...A rebel from the waist down."

In an extraordinarily insensitive gesture, Manson also simulated cutting his wrist with a fake knife in an apparent reference to Paris' suicide attempt.

"It was outrageous, provocative, disgusting – and utterly tasteless," said one concertgoer.

Meanwhile, when Paris' 72-hour psychiatric hold expired, family members moved her to UCLA Medical Center – the same hospital where paramedics brought her father on June 25, 2009, before he was pronounced dead.

"Are you crazy? Are you crazy? Why would you bring me here?" the distraught teen reportedly shouted as loved ones pulled up to the hospital.

After she's released, Paris is determined to live with her biological mother, Debbie Rowe, on her horse ranch in Palmdale, Calif., sources say.

"Paris is obviously yearning for a mother figure, and she has no qualms about relocating to Palmdale," noted an insider.

Bullying hell of Michael's daughter

'Misfit' Paris mocked & hounded

BRUTAL bullying on social media and at her prestigious private school helped to push Paris Jackson over the edge, insiders say.

In the weeks before the troubled teen's shocking suicide attempt, Paris was said to be hounded mercilessly for befriending classmates who didn't fit in at the hoity-toity $35,000-a-year Buckley School. "She was nicknamed 'the queen of misfits' because her friends were gay, overweight or into different music and considered 'not cool,'" said a source close to the Jackson family.

"Paris was fine with it until the bullies started going after her family. One girl crossed the line when she used the N-word in talking about the Jackson clan and called (her brothers) Prince and Blanket gay. The last straw was when the girl called Paris a freak, saying she was conceived in a petri dish and her father was a disgusting pedophile who got what he deserved."

"Paris screamed at the girl, and then lunged at her. She pushed her to the ground, and they both started slapping and pulling each other's hair."

Friends broke up the fight, but afterward Paris appeared to have a major meltdown.

"She was trembling, crying and in a daze," said the source.

PARIS WAS ALSO HARASSED AFTER befriending a gay boy at her school who wasn't ready to come out of the closet, according to the source.

"Paris took this boy under her wing so the other kids would stop making fun of him, but it backfired," said the source.

"The kids started calling Paris a lesbian and made fun of her for being in a 'gay relationship.'"

Paris has also been the target of relentless attacks on Twitter, prompting her to delete a photo-sharing account.

The cruel attacks ramped up after Paris posted a 20-minute YouTube video on May 31 that showed her displaying her favorite makeup techniques.

One commenter posted a message saying: "this b**** is crazy."

And on May 29, just one week before her suicide bid, a message was posted on Twitter that said simply: "Die... lesbian."

PROFESSIONAL poker player Marcus Bebb-Jones got away with murder for 16 years – and then his luck ran out.

Back in 1997, he claimed his 31-year-old wife Sabrina walked out on him after they argued during a trip into the wilderness.

Cops didn't buy his story. But they had no idea where Sabrina's body was located and couldn't charge Bebb-Jones with murder. Then someone stumbled across his wife's skull, and the card-playing killer was eventually forced to show his hand.

"Right from day one, we figured he'd killed Sabrina, but without a body, we could never prove it," Bill Middleton, a commander with the Garfield County Sheriff's Department in Colorado, told The ENQUIRER.

"I'm sure he thought he'd gotten away with murder."

Bebb-Jones and Sabrina, who married in 1993, owned a hotel in Grand Junction, Colo. But by 1997, a fed up Sabrina was threatening to divorce Bebb-Jones over his flirting with female guests.

DETERMINED NOT TO FORK over Sabrina's $130,000 share of the hotel, Bebb-Jones hatched an evil plot to kill her.

That September, he convinced Sabrina to visit the remote Dinosaur National Monument on the Colorado-Utah border with him. But Bebb-Jones returned alone and immediately went on a wild three-day spending spree in Las Vegas.

Using his wife's credit cards, he blew thousands on drugs, designer clothes, renting a Ferrari, partying with strippers and gambling.

After he blew all his cash and maxed out Sabrina's credit cards, he penned a suicide note to his "missing" wife, saying he couldn't live without her. Then Bebb-Jones stuck a .32-caliber gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger. But cops say it was all a ruse as he pointed the gun at his left cheek, knowing he'd survive the bullet passing through soft flesh.

Two years later, Bebb-Jones

Marcus Bebb-Jones claimed his wife Sabrina walked out on him after an argument during a trip into the wilderness in 1997

'He thought he'd committed the perfect crime'

returned to his native England where he competed on the British poker circuit, once winning about $140,000 in a Texas Hold'em tournament.

"He continued to live the good life and thumbed his nose at my family," said Sabrina's brother, Robert Dang. "He thought he'd committed the perfect crime."

BUT IN 2004, A RANCHER FOUND a skull in a remote meadow in Garfield County. Cops used dental records to identify it as Sabrina's and built a case against Bebb-Jones.

Authorities charged him with first-degree murder, and British police arrested him in 2009. He fought extradition but lost his final appeal in February 2011 and was brought back to the U.S. in handcuffs.

After continuing to proclaim his innocence, Bebb-Jones finally decided to strike a deal with prosecutors. He pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and received a 20-year sentence.

But the scheming wife-killer could be freed as early as 2019, and that's outraged his victim's family. "They feel he should spend the rest of his life in prison," said Commander Middleton.

TAYLOR SWIFT

No wins for Taylor, but she's still stunning in a silk georgette Elie Saab dress with embroidered details. Wish I could afford those $1,250 lace and suede Jimmy Choo sandals!

KIMBERLY PERRY

The Band Perry singer is glam-tastic! Her orange chiffon gown by California-based Iraqi designer Oday Shakar evokes old Hollywood glamour, and the lace insets are sweet 'n' sexy.

KRISTEN BELL

The show's hostess went a little bit rock 'n' roll in a black leather Zuhair Murad cocktail dress with embroidered details. I can't believe she had a baby just two months ago!

SHERYL CROW

Remember when Sheryl scored a hit with "My Favorite Mistake"? She should have left this blunder in the closet.

A Life Without 'Belly Fat'

How One Woman Overcomes Tragedy and Creates the Life She's Always Wanted – By Tiffany Strobel*

Mindy DeForest's wake-up call about her weight problem was heartbreaking and profound: her sister died of colon cancer. "My sister was overweight, and I knew that being overweight myself put me more at risk for all sorts of health issues," she says. "I knew something had to change."

At 208 pounds, Mindy was the heaviest she'd ever been. Even having children hadn't caused her to gain so much weight, but the stress of caring for and eventually losing her sister, as well as being in an unhappy marriage, had caused her weight to balloon. "I'm a total stress eater," she says. "I kept turning to food for emotional reasons, and I was really putting on weight."

Like most people, Mindy had tried dieting in the past. Over the course of ten years she tried Weight Watchers, Body for Life, ephedra... pretty much everything. But unfortunately, nothing was working for her.

Mindy decided to try losing weight one more time, so she began working with a personal trainer. It didn't take long before her trainer realized that a big part of her weight-gain issues revolved around stress eating, so he recommended she try a product called Relacore®.

"He told me it was a 'belly fat' pill that could help me feel less stressed, give me energy, and improve my mood," Mindy says. She admits she was pessimistic after having tried so many products that hadn't worked in the past, but says, "My trainer really believed in it, so I agreed to give it a try."

It didn't take long before Mindy was convinced of Relacore's effectiveness. "I really noticed a difference in my mood. I was in the process of getting divorced and was worried I'd suffer from depression, but Relacore made a huge difference for me. I never felt down. I stopped my 'nervous' eating. And I could really tell from my mood when I missed a day, so I knew it was doing something for me."

Before long, the inches started dropping off, and Mindy's entire life began to change. "My self-esteem went through the roof. I started getting job offers, and I felt like for the first time in years, people were paying attention to me. When I was overweight it was like I just blended into the background, but then I started getting thin

"When I was overweight it was like I just blended into the background, but then I started getting thin and all of a sudden people were noticing me."

and all of a sudden people were noticing me." But then Mindy hit the dreaded "weight-loss plateau" and almost gave up on ever reaching her goal...

until her trainer recommended a second product: Zantrex®-3 High Energy Fat Burner. "He told me it could help me get past my plateau and start losing again," Mindy says, "and I'd had so much success with Relacore that I didn't hesitate to try it."

Mindy added Zantrex to her Relacore/diet and exercise regimen, and it gave her the extra boost she needed to blow through her plateau and start dropping even more weight.

"With help from Relacore and Zantrex, I've lost 55 pounds, and I'm still going. I haven't been this thin since my twenties. I just bought a new skirt, and when I was trying it on it felt so amazing to keep telling the store clerk to bring me a smaller size. I ended up buying a size 2. It was awesome. I couldn't believe it."

But for Mindy, the greatest accomplishment isn't being able to fit into a size 2. "It's knowing that I really had the power to change my life. When I was overweight, I was miserable. But now everyone around me can see the difference losing weight has made not just in my physical appearance, but in everything. I have energy, I'm positive, I'm outgoing. My whole outlook on life has changed. I'm just so happy."

Heard about "Combo-Pilling"?

The highly controversial practice of Combo-Pilling is truly an underground phenomenon. Odds are, if you know someone who's losing lots of weight, and losing it fast, you probably know someone who's Combo-Pilling... like Mindy D. Why? Because it allows people to attack multiple facets of weight loss – like dropping fat, overcoming stress eating, and having enough energy to work out – all at the same time.

According to the Internet, the most popular Combo-Pilling duo is Zantrex and Relacore. You can find them both at Wal-Mart, Walgreens, Rite-Aid, CVS, and GNC, or order them separately from their respective manufacturers, Zantrex-3 at Zantrex3.com (1-800-518-4505) Relacore at Relacore.com (1-800-383-6113) or at TryComboPilling.com. ## Pesticides LINKED TO PARKINSON'S ★ Warning! Pesticides used to kill bugs and weeds could trigger Parkinson's disease.

After analyzing more than 100 studies, Italian researchers concluded that exposure to bug and weed killers or solvents increased the risk of developing the ailment by anywhere from 33 to 80 percent.

The risk increases with prolonged exposure, cautions Dr. Emanuele Cereda, a university-affiliated scientist in Pavia, Italy.

★ Vitamin D may be able to reduce asthma symptoms – and researchers are touting it as a potential new treatment for the common condition.

Scientists at King's College London discovered that vitamin D reduced production of a natural substance in the body that is known to worsen asthma flare-ups.

"These findings are very exciting as they show that vitamin D could one day be used not only to treat people with steroid-resistant asthma but also to reduce the doses of steroids in other asthma patients, reducing the risk of harmful side effects," says King's College professor Catherine Hawrylowicz.

VITAMIN FIGHTS ASTHMA

PROSTATE CANCER DECISIONS

★ Prostate cancer surgery and radiation therapy are not always in the best interests for men over the age of 60 who have been diagnosed with the disease.

Older patients may fare better without treatment, which can cause serious side effects, say UCLA researchers.

A new study found that some men with low or moderate-risk prostate cancer who had other underlying health conditions were much more likely to die of something other than their cancer.

"Older men with multiple underlying health problems should carefully consider whether they should treat these tumors aggressively because that treatment comes with a price," says UCLA study author Dr. Timothy Daskivich.

Nuts TO HEALTHY HEARTS

★ Eating whole walnuts – or adding walnut oil extract to foods – is good for the heart. The nuts can help remove excess cholesterol from the body and the oil can maintain blood-vessel function, which is particularly important in individuals with cardiovascular disease. "Our study indicates that simple dietary changes, such as incorporating walnuts and/or their oil in a heart healthy diet, may reduce the risk of heart disease," says Penn State University nutrition professor Penny Kris-Etherton.

★ Researchers at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine are experimenting with a new theory to stop the progress of osteoarthritis that could make joint replacement surgery a thing of the past.

The potentially groundbreaking theory is that OA begins when initial harm to the cartilage causes the bone underneath to build extra bone – leading to onset of the debilitating joint disease. This contradicts the traditional idea that cartilage alone is the main culprit of the condition.

Using mice with torn knee ligaments, they found that by injecting a drug to block the bone-building process, they were able to stop osteoarthritis from getting worse. Researcher Xu Cao and his team are working on developing a clinical trial with humans to test their new findings.

"If successful," he says, "(the) nonsurgical treatment could make osteoarthritis, and the pain and debilitation it causes, halt in its tracks."

CRYPTOGRAM QUOTES

FAMOUS QUOTES FROM YOUR FAVORITE PEOPLE

Cryptograms are coded messages. To solve the Cryptogram, each coded letter must be replaced by the answer letter in the box overhead. When you solve the code for a letter, write the answer letter in the box everywhere the coded letter appears. Look for common words and letter patterns to break the code. Words like AND, I, THE and A are found frequently. Common word endings are ING, S and E.

"SHAKE YOURSELF SKINNY!"

37 year-old mother of 2 reveals how she lost 70 lbs* WITHOUT traditional dieting...and it was as easy as shaking 'salt 'n pepper' on her meals

Finally, my body is back to the way it was before I had my two kids! I couldn't be happier because I struggled with my weight for three whole years after I had my second child. As a busy mom, I tried every traditional diet out there with no success — only to end up even more frustrated with what I saw in the mirror.

Before motherhood, I was actually very fit. But during my second pregnancy, that all went out the window. I ate whenever a craving struck and ended up gaining a good 65 pounds.

I figured I wouldn't have a problem losing the weight after I gave birth, as many women can attest, it was much harder than I imagined. The bad eating habits I had developed during my pregnancy felt impossible to break, and I had gotten used to eating oversized portions. My energy levels were at an all-time low, and I had no time for myself — let alone dieting.

Sick of feeling self-conscious, I resorted to using diet pills, but they made me feel on edge. I then tried the "no-carb" diet, and I lost a few pounds at first but ended up gaining 10 pounds back. I also tried diuretics and pre-packaged meals, which were equally pointless and disappointing.

Desperate for a solution, I was searching the Internet one day when I came across an ad for the SENSEA® Weight-Loss System. The message was simple — just shake this onto everything you eat and lose weight! I was immediately skeptical, but I figured I might as well research it a bit, especially since nothing else had worked.

SENSEA® was invented by Dr. Alan Hirsch, a neurologist and one of the world's leading experts on smell and taste.

When sprinkled onto food, SENSEA® works with your senses to help you feel full faster, so you eat less and lose weight. And unlike most other diet products, SENSEA® contains no stimulants, diuretics or laxatives. I had heard of SENSEA® in the news before, and after reading up on the facts, I knew I had to try it.

Shake, Eat, Lose!™

The best part about SENSEA® are the easy instructions — right away, I started shaking SENSEA® on all my meals and snacks. But I was still skeptical, having been on so many yo-yo diets where you quickly lose weight only to gain it back again. I kept on sprinkling, and I kept on losing weight week after week.

I shake SENSEA® on everything. I'm always on the go and I can take my SENSEA® anywhere...it fits perfectly into my lifestyle. Whether I'm home with the kids or out to dinner with my friends, I always have SENSEA® with me.

Losing Weight Really Doesn't get any Easier

Now, for the first time in 3 years, I'm back to my pre-baby weight. My husband can't believe my change, I keep catching him staring! I'll admit it — I love being able to go shopping and try on any style I want; it's such a great feeling to be able to wear a size 6.

I have now lost 70 lbs in 11 months with SENSEA®. Best of all, I feel so healthy — I have more energy to play with my kids, and I'm even training for a marathon. SENSEA® worked for me, and it can work for you, too. Claim your 30 day FREE trial just like I did, where the only thing you have to lose... is YOUR extra pounds!

Devious Maids (New Show!)

Sunday, June 23, 10 p.m. ET, Lifetime

This bitingly satirical prime-time soap features the most diabolical bunch of domestics and the most sarcastic, self-centered socialites in Beverly Hills. In the premiere, Flora (Paula Garcés), maid for the Powells, is stabbed to death after Evelyn Powell finds out that Flora was sleeping with her husband. One week later, a maid named Marisol (Ana Ortiz) takes a position at the Stappords house. But as they and their snooty friends soon realize, Marisol is no ordinary maid. From the hilarious, shocking and revealing first line to the last delicious moment, "Devious Maids" is devilish fun. Susan Lucci, Dania Ramirez, Roselyn Sanchez, Edy Ganem and Judy Reyes star.

Rizzoli & Isles (Season Premiere)

Tuesday, June 25, 9 p.m. ET, TNT

Medical Examiner Dr. Maura Isles (Sasha Alexander) is moody and acting weird and wacky after anonymously donating her kidney to her sister. Her own mother, who knew about the surgery, didn't even send Maura a fruit basket! Det. Jane Rizzoli (Angie Harmon) gets Maura to let out all her rage and disappointment. But can she get her to confront her sister? Meanwhile, a senator is shot right in front of Rizzoli and Isles, and they and the team are under pressure from the governor to solve the case fast in the event-packed season opener.

Banner 4th of July (Made-for-TV Movie Premiere)

Saturday, June 29, 9 p.m. ET, Hallmark Channel

"American Idol" finalist Brooke White, Christian Campbell and Michael Barbuto are three musical siblings separated by bad blood in this forgive and forget and make great music story. When their mom (Mercedes Ruehl) and mayor of Pinewood Hills has a heart attack, they all come together to be by her side. Meanwhile, the town must repay a bond or go bankrupt. The only hope is a reunion concert for The Banner Project – the kids' old band. But can Desiree (White) and Mitchell (Campbell) put their 10-year feud aside and make music and money for the town? This feel-good Fourth of July movie features two original songs written and recorded by White.

Anna Nicole (Made-for-TV Movie Premiere)

Saturday, June 29, 8 p.m. ET, Lifetime

You may know the unhappily-ever-after Cinderella story that was Vickie Lynn Hogan, aka Anna Nicole Smith's, life and career. Living it with her is something else again. Agnes Bruckner "fleshes" out the Marilyn Monroe wannabe so vividly and with such emotional intensity that you actually believe you're there with the real Anna Nicole every misstep of the way. Martin Landau is witty, funny, charming and tragic all at once as Anna's 80-something sugar daddy, millionaire J. Howard Marshall II. The rest of the cast, including Virginia Madsen as Vickie's absentee mom, is also superb in this well-done rags to riches to ruin story that's easy on the eyes but tough on your heartstrings.

ALYSSA MILANO and her mother are feuding over her scandalous new series "Mistresses"!

In an amazing about-face, the former child star of "Who's the Boss?" has gone from anti-porn crusader to portraying an adulterer who regularly sheds her clothes on the raunchy ABC drama.

The racy scenes have shocked and outraged her conservative mom Lin, says an insider.

"Alyssa's mom never thought she would be starring on a show that glorifies adultery and promiscuity," confided a source close to the 40-year-old star.

BASED ON A BRITISH TV SHOW, "Mistresses" follows the lives of four friends and their intriguing romances – many of them illicit. Alyssa plays the role of Savannah "Savi" Davis, an unhappily married lawyer who cheats on her husband.

"Lin isn't in charge of Alyssa's career choices anymore, but she let Alyssa know she never would have allowed her to audition for a role like that," said the source.

Doting mom Lin is especially sensitive to racy material because of a jarring 1998 incident in which Alyssa's brother Cory found phony nude images of the actress on the Internet. Alyssa's mom was so upset she went on a crusade to clean up the Web.

But now Alyssa's flaunting herself on network TV. And despite her mother's objections, Alyssa, who's married and raising a 22-month-old son, is enjoying the challenging role.

"I look at Savi as being a really good person who makes a really bad decision and then has to deal with the repercussions of that," the actress told an interviewer. "The biggest challenge was making her likable."

Really, Martha?

I hope Martha Stewart is successful in finding a nice man to brighten her senior years (Lonely Heart Martha Under Attack, May 20). But forget about romance – she stipulates that he must bring in more than $150,000 a year.
Surely Martha can afford to zero in on other qualities.

Family feud

Julia Roberts has every right to skip her sister Nancy's wedding (Julia Roberts
Boycotts Sister's Wedding,
May 20). If their mom wants them to patch things up, she should tell Nancy to thank Julia for the help
she provided in the past. It seems Nancy feels entitled.

Letter of the Week

Do right by Dannielynn

Larry Birkhead's at it again
(The Week in Pictures, May 20)! His self-serving attempt to get attention by taking Dannielynn to play dress-up at the Kentucky Derby is probably making Anna Nicole Smith turn over in her grave. It's time for Larry to get a real job and stop exploiting the kid.

HOW TO PLAY

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

WATCH out, Mila! Your boyfriend has his eye on someone new.

Insiders say that "Two and a Half Men" star Ashton Kutcher has struck up a cozy new bromance with British billionaire Richard Branson.

Mila Kunis

Ashton, 35, recently put down a whopping $250,000 deposit to reserve a spot on Branson's

Virgin Galactic suborbital spacecraft. And now, the hunky actor and adventuresome entrepreneur are said to be best buddies.

"YOU SHOULD SEE them in action," said a source. "It's a case of the egos have landed as they've become their own

Ashton has put down a $250,000 deposit to reserve a spot on Richard Branson's Virgin Galactic suborbital spacecraft backslapping boys' club. "The two have a lot in common and have even started calling themselves 'space bros.' Ashton's totally into it."

Branson is so taken with the star, he wants to introduce Ashton to his family. He's also extended an invitation for Ashton to stay at his posh estate on Necker Island in the Caribbean, according to the source.

In return, Ashton has promised to have Branson meet his 29-year-old girlfriend, actress Mila Kunis.

"Mila thinks the bromance is great," said the source. "She really wants to meet Richard and is even talking about getting her own space ticket."

AND MILA'S NOT THE ONLY one. Branson, 62, says Justin Bieber just signed up for Virgin Galactic's space flight, and it's been reported that Tom Hanks, Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie also have spots on the list.

Added the source: "And it goes without saying that Mila is also looking forward to a vacation on Necker Island!"

Chiropractor Develops Pain-Busting 'Miracle Socks' for Diabetics & Foot Pain Sufferers!

No Drugs!
No Pain!
Just pure comfort!

Breakthrough circulation-boosting fibers improve blood flow,
relieve swelling,
boost oxygen flow,
& eliminate foot fatigue
in as little as 5 minutes!

Increase blood flow up to 22% and feel better fast!

Do you suffer from circulation issues, injury, swelling or any condition that leaves your feet fatigued and sore? Read on to discover a breakthrough that put an end to foot problems.

Better Blood Flow

Good news comes in the form of a 'pain-busting microfiber' that is used to weave a circulation-boosting sock, called Bambusa™. The 'miracle sock' is made from a patented anion-technology used to weave every micro-fiber thread for Bambusa™ socks. This is a revolutionary bamboo charcoal thread that helps boost blood flow.

The 3D-weave technology used in the material has been compared to infrared light therapy to help revitalize stiff and sore muscles. The material is known for providing almost instant relief to any part of the body it touches, making it ideal for diabetics, athletes, and those who suffer from inflammation, stiffness or swelling.

Doctor Developed

Dr. Jackson Corley, a chiropractor of 20-years, created the patent-pending, circulation-boosting 3D-weave technology. "Infrared therapy has been used for years at medical clinics for circulatory conditions. Physical therapists use infrared therapy to speed recovery. Better blood flow equals less pain. This micro-fiber works much the same way."

This product is not a medical device. It is not intended to cure, treat or prevent any disease or illness. Individual results will vary.

Therapy Without A Prescription!

When the socks were tested using a Laser Doppler Blood Flow Meter, results showed up to a 17% to 22% increase in blood flow. This helped to improve muscle oxygenation and decrease foot fatigue. The socks have been shown to provide extended relief from cold, swollen and fatigued feet.

John G. of CA says he felt quick results with his tired, swollen feet. "Without exaggeration the relief was almost instantaneous. It is like a heating pad set to low and wrapped around my calf. I will be replacing my entire set of dress socks with these socks!"

Marilyn H. has suffered persistent foot problems for years and noticed fast results. "The issue for me was persistent numbness in my toes - it was gone completely after a few days of wearing these socks! Being diabetic, I never had pain-free feet - UNTIL NOW!"

Relief for Tired, Swollen Feet

Bambusa™ socks are not medical devices or compression socks because they don't restrict blood flow. "My feet felt wonderful and cool. I never get the pins and needles feeling anymore. I love Bambusa™ socks," says Nancy, from NJ.

"I went out on the golf course for 18 holes, and when I got home my feet weren't swollen, they weren't sweating and my feet didn't hurt," says Lou B. from New York.

Goodbye to Pain and Numbness

Bambusa™ socks can also bring comfort to tired legs within minutes of putting them on, energizing individuals who spend long hours on their feet. Tom from MA reports, "I suffer from chronic foot cramps. My feet were sore for days after the cramping. My wife gave me the Bambusa™ socks, I wore them, and the foot cramps stopped. I replaced all my socks with Bambusa™ - I feel great!"

BENEFITS:

- Increased blood flow & oxygen
- Less swelling & discomfort
- Wicks away moisture

IDEAL FOR:

- Neuropathy
- Raynaud's Syndrome
- Hot/Cold Feet

ALL THE SOAPS FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 24

WHEN Larry Shaffer came home after a year-long stint with the U.S. Army in Afghanistan, he barely recognized his wife Misty – because she'd lost nearly 100 pounds!

"All I could say was, 'Wow!' I was speechless," recalled Larry, 27.

Misty, 25, added: "When he first saw me, Larry threw his head back, and his mouth dropped. I ran up, threw my arms around him, and he lifted me right off my feet!"

"He'd never done that before because I was too heavy, and I was afraid he was going to drop me. But then I thought, hey, I'm not that big person I used to be. He can handle it."

Misty, who's 5-foot-6, had struggled with her weight all her life. At her heaviest, she hit 315 pounds while pregnant with the couple's now 3-year-old daughter Nevaeh.

WHEN HER HUSBAND WAS DEPLOYED IN May 2012, Misty tipped the scales at 250 pounds and wore a size 20 dress.

"I'd tried dieting before, but nothing worked," Misty, who works at a grocery store in Leland, N.C., told The ENQUIRER.

"After Larry left, I made up my mind that I was going to lose weight once and for all."

She'd been wolfing down more than 6,000 calories a day – gorging on meals big enough for two while snacking on potato chips, ice cream and candy.

She switched to eating grains, fruits, vegetables and lean meats, drank lots of water and learned portion control.

While the first few months were tough, she says her stomach eventually shrank and she didn't feel hungry all the time. She also lost her craving for sweets.

As she slimmed down, Misty decided to keep her weight loss a secret from Larry, who'd never seen her below 240 pounds.

She didn't post new photos on Facebook and only sent him pictures that showed her from the shoulders up.

"Larry knew I was losing weight because he could see it in my face," she recalled.

"He kept saying, 'Send me a full body picture. I want to see what you look like.'"

She refused, and when Larry flew into Wilmington, N.C., on May 15, a slimmed-down Misty was there to greet him along with 30 friends and family members.

"I was so nervous," she said. "I kept thinking, 'What if he doesn't like the way I look? What will he do? Will he leave me?'"

But Misty, who's now 154 pounds and Misty added: "Larry keeps telling me how proud he is of me, and that makes me feel so good. I'm so happy! It's awesome."

When Larry first saw Misty and Nevaeh at the airport, he couldn't believe how beautiful his wife looked
